Who doesn't want to stand under a room with no walls. That's right, we have rooms without walls, and we call them MUSHROOMS. You can stand, dance and play under these while water rushes down the sides. If you time your placement, you can even stand under these without ever getting wet. Not that we recommend such use, it can be done. We recommend adding a variety of our water play features to your splash pad or spray park because the more you have, the more fun everyone will have. Don't limit the possibilities you can create because the more you have the better it is
